BRI-CHEM CLOSES DRILLING FLUIDS ACQUISITION IN UNITED STATES

NOT FOR DISTRIBUTION TO U.S. NEWSWIRE SERVICES OR FOR DISSEMINATION IN THE U.S.

Edmonton, Canada, June 1, 2011 – Bri-Chem Corp. ("Bri-Chem" or "Company") (TSX Venture Exchange: BRY) a leading Canadian wholesale distributor of oil and gas drilling fluids, steel pipe and piping products is pleased to announce that it has completed the acquisition of Stryker, Ltd. and Stryker Transportation, Ltd. ("Stryker"), a Denver, USA based full-service drilling fluids, warehouse and transportation wholesaler. The acquisition of Stryker is expected to add approximately US$7 million in annual revenues to Bri-Chem and provide a platform to pursue additional USA drilling fluids market share which is estimated at approximately US$3.1 billion. The total purchase price is approximately US$2.5 million including the issuance of 171,429 common shares of Bri-Chem to the vendor, Oilfield Supply Solutions, a Colorado limited liability company.

Strategic Acquisition – Stryker

The Stryker acquisition is strategically aligned with Bri-Chem's business plan to pursue growth opportunities in the USA and create a wholesale drilling fluid distribution network to service the USA unconventional resource plays, in Texas (Barnett & Eagle Ford), Louisiana (Haynesville), and the North-East USA (Marcellus). The integration of Stryker also creates the opportunity to leverage Bri-Chem's current Canadian customer base that have begun or are in the process of pursuing strategic growth opportunities in the USA which, through Stryker, can now be serviced using an independent fluids wholesaler in the USA. Management of Bri-Chem expects the Stryker acquisition to be accretive to Bri-Chem's cash flow, EBITDA, and earnings.

About Stryker

Stryker started operations in 2005 as Oilfield Supply Chain Solutions. It has grown over the past 5 years to a $6.5M revenue company with 16 employees, 3 warehouses, and a trucking fleet of 6. The Company now has two divisions, Stryker, Ltd., which is in wholesale distributor of drilling fluid chemicals, and Stryker Transportation, Ltd., which provides trucking services to its customers. Stryker has three operating locations, Denver, Colorado, Grand Junction, Colorado and Ulster, Pennsylvania. Denver is the largest and accounts for approximately 50% of total sales. The Denver, Colorado warehouse has rail access and packaging equipment to allow custom bagging of products for both the company and its customers. In 2009, Stryker entered into the trucking business and is a common carrier with Department of Transportation authority. Stryker brought in the trucking division to help secure trucking and allow for more flexibility to meet the needs of its customers.

"The acquisition of Stryker and its warehouse and transportation operations in the United States provides Bri-Chem its initial step to becoming a North American leader in wholesale drilling fluids distribution," commented Mr. Don Caron, Chief Executive Officer of Bri-Chem. "It is our intention to support Stryker's growth initiatives and establish new and additional warehouse locations in active drilling regions throughout the United States."

Mr. Lane Bates, General Manager of Stryker, who now joins Bri-Chem and will play a key leadership role in the further development and execution of Bri-Chem's USA expansion strategy commented, "This transaction gives Stryker the immediate opportunity to advance its expansion plans into additional oil and gas wholesale drilling fluid markets. I am excited by the growth opportunities presented by this transaction and look forward to being a part of Bri-Chem's future."
